

Policies of Faculty/Graduate School of Engineering on Activity Restrictions for Preventing the Spread of COVID-19

Restrictions may be lifted or tightened by the Dean, according to the conditions of COVID-19 spread

Restriction Level	Estimated Start Date	Research Activities	Lectures	Students' Extra-Curricular Activities
0	To be announced	(Status) As usual	(Status) As usual	(Status) As usual
1	To be announced	(Status) Resuming research activities while taking utmost precaution for infection spread <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students who commute to university using public transportation can resume their research activities (However, adopting staggered hours of commuting to university is recommended. Also, taking students' concerns as top priority and conducting research activities at home should be allowed). For laboratories which meet the three conditions (3Cs) that facilitate the transmission of infectious disease (closed spaces, crowds, and close contact), efforts to reduce the number of attendees by adopting staggered hours of commuting to university, etc. is required. Students are required to complete the [Survey on Resuming Research Activities] to resume their research activities. Research reporting and guidance to be conducted online Journal clubs, seminar activities, presentation practice, etc. to be conducted online Prohibiting dining/drinking parties involving a group of people Required to wear masks 	(Status) Further relaxed restrictions on lectures <ul style="list-style-type: none"> In principle, lectures are held online (some lectures can be resumed while taking utmost precaution for infection spread). Practice-, exercise-, and experiment activities can be resumed while taking utmost precaution for infection spread. However, consideration for students who cannot attend university is also required. Based on the decisions of professors, graduate school lectures/seminars with a relatively small-number of students (approximately less than 20 students), face-to-face lectures can be resumed while taking utmost precaution for infection spread. However, consideration for students who cannot attend university is also required. Periodical examinations can be conducted in a classroom with restriction measures in place. However, consideration for students who cannot attend university is also required. Required to wear masks 	(Status) Lifting restrictions conditionally <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Following the policies of the University
2	on/after June 15	(Status) Resuming research activities while taking utmost precaution for infection spread <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students who commute to university using public transportation can also resume their research activities. It is strongly recommend to adopt staggered hours of commuting to university, etc. (However, taking students' concerns as top priority and conducting research activities at home should be allowed). For laboratories which meet the three conditions (3Cs) that facilitate the transmission of infectious disease (closed spaces, crowds, and close contact), efforts to reduce the number of attendees by adopting staggered hours of commuting to university, etc. is required. Students are required to complete the [Survey on Resuming Research Activities] to resume their research activities. Research reporting and guidance to be conducted online Journal clubs, seminar activities, presentation practice, etc. to be conducted online Prohibiting dining/drinking parties involving a group of people Required to wear masks 	(Status) Relaxed restrictions on lectures <ul style="list-style-type: none"> In principle, lectures are held online. Some practices, exercises, and experiments can be resumed while taking utmost precaution for infection spread. However, consideration for students who cannot attend university is also required. Based on the decisions of professors, graduate school lectures/seminars with a relatively small-number of students (approximately less than 20 students), face-to-face lectures can be resumed while taking utmost precaution for infection spread. However, consideration for students who cannot attend university is also required. Periodical examinations can be conducted in a classroom with restriction measures in place. However, consideration for students who cannot attend university is also required. Required to wear masks 	(Status) Lifting restrictions conditionally <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Following the policies of the University
3	June 1 June 14	(Status) Relaxed restrictions on research activities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students who commute to university without using public transportation can resume their research activities. It is strongly recommend to adopt staggered hours of commuting to university, etc. (However, taking students' concerns as top priority and conducting research activities at home should be allowed). In laboratories, etc., efforts to avoid the three conditions (3Cs) that facilitate the transmission of infectious disease (closed spaces, crowds, and close contact) is required. Students are required to complete the [Survey on Resuming Research Activities] to resume their research activities. Until June 14, a "Campus Entry Permit" signed by a supervisor/advising professor is required when students enter the campus. Research reporting and guidance to be conducted online Journal clubs, seminar activities, presentation practice, etc. to be conducted online Prohibiting dining/drinking parties involving a group of people Required to wear masks 	(Status) Online lectures only or postponing lectures	(Status) Prohibiting all activities
4	Until May 31	(Status) In principle, cancelling all activities	(Status) Online lectures only or postponing lectures	(Status) Prohibiting all activities